

COMMUNITY & SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY DIVISION

Community psychology and social psychology both look at how larger social systems impact on people's lives and both have qualitative interests that critique mainstream psychological approaches. They are merged as a single division in PsySSA because of the small number of psychologists who identify with each category. Our mission is to promote an understanding of the fields of community and social psychology (CaSP) and create opportunities for a new generation of professionals. CaSP intersects with all psychological work & is relevant to all forms of practice.
